DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. Claims 1-26 and 28 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claims 1, 6, 20, 25 and 28, the term “covalently associated” or “covalently associating” renders these claims indefinite because it’s unclear whether what “associating” or “associated” denotes. Is a bond formed between the core and the substance or is there a third material between the core and with the substance?

Other claims are deemed indefinite in view of their dependency upon claim 1, 6, 20 or 25.

In claim 22, “core particle” has no clear antecedent basis. No “core” particle is recited in claim 21 upon which claim 22 depend. In addition, what is the difference between “covalently linked” (as recited in claim 22) and “covalently associated” (as suggested in claim 21 by the “covalently associating” process step)?

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. Claim 27 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being obvious over Wang et al (US 5,395,688) in view of Chandler et al (US 5,981,180) as set forth in the previous office action and further discussed below.

The only argument made by applicants is that the particles as claimed require a covalent bond between the core particle and the substance associated with the core.

Art Unit: 1773

However, claim 27 contains no such limitation (i.e. covalent bonding). Therefore, claim 27 stands rejected for the reasons set forth in the previous office action.
